

To everyone at Contractors For Kids,

Thank you so very much for your help. I can't begin to fully express our gratitude. We want so much to provide the best quality of life and health to Oliver, and it is often a daunting task. There are so many out of pocket expenses and we find we are constantly juggling which bills to pay. Although having a child with such significant special health care needs is indeed a hardship, it is equally a blessing. Not many people are able or willing to look past the list of medical problems and see the joy that lives in Oliver. He is the sweetest, happiest, most tolerant little boy. We could never ever feel bad about having him in our family. Yes, it is a hard life, with many frightening moments and lots of physical and emotional work, but the rewards far outweigh the hardships. Knowing that there are people like you, who want only to help make a difference, is a reward in itself. So again, thank you for helping us with our overwhelming expenses and please know that you have all made a difference in the life of Oliver and our family.

Warmly,

Missy, Brandon, Katy & mostly Oliver Miller
